

Nine Indictments Against Garrison

Jury Foreman Demands New County Audit

Four Other
Indictments
Also Returned

A Saline county circuit court grand jury today returned 13 indictments, including nine charging County Clerk Don B. Garrison with embezzlement, and there were indications that the grand jury will continue to delve in the matters of the county.

The grand jury, along with the indictments handed over to Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds at 11:30 a. m. today by Willie Robinson, the foreman, presented a resolution demanding that the Saline County Board of Supervisors hire a new, independent auditor or auditing firm to audit the county records and that the auditor or firm be approved by both State Attorney Robert V. Wilson and Judge Reynolds. The Peoria audit firm, Coker and Coker, has audited the county books for years.

M. B. Coker, member of the firm, was the grand jury witness in the Garrison investigation.

The amounts listed in the Garrison indictments totalled $3,367.

After receiving the indictments Judge Reynolds ordered bench warrants issued and fixed the bail for each indictment.

Other Indictments

The four other indictments were: Elzie Byers of near Paducah, indicted for burglary in connection with the breaking and entering of the Moss Bait Co. at Eldorado, where two expensive outboard motors and an electric motor were taken. Bail was set at $2,000.

Joe Byers, his brothers, indicted on the same charge. His bail, too, was fixed at $2,000.

Arthur Pitts, indicted on a charge of arson, charged with setting fire and burning down a building owned by Charles Horton at Eldorado. Bail was fixed at $5,000.

Henry Denny, indicted on a charge of grand larceny, charged with stealing $300 from Nellie Cox.

Bail for Garrison was set at $2,000 on each of the nine indictments. The indictments charged the following:

Embezzlement of county money totalling $367.30 on Oct. 9, 1953; of $367.30 Oct. 21, 1953; of $367.30 Nov. 27, 1953; of $367.30 Oct. 8, 1954; of $267.30 Oct. 21, 1954; of $379.50 Nov. 26, 1954; of $417 on Sept. 28, 1955; of $417 on Nov. 5, 1955; and $417 on Nov. 23, 1955.

Garrison was not available for comment on the indictments early this afternoon.

After handing in the indictments, the grand jury recessed indefinitely, to be reconvened upon call by Foreman Robinson.

Ram Fatally Injures Woman

MONMOUTH, Ill. (U.P.) — Mrs. Glenn McClure 69, Cameron, died early today at Monmouth Hospital from injuries inflicted by a ram, which attacked her near her farm home.

The woman was found unconscious Thursday in a chicken house near where she had been feeding chickens when the animal attacked her. Her daughter, Mrs. Walter Milward, said her mother apparently dragged herself into the shelter after she was critically injured.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. McClure received a skull fracture, a number of broken ribs, a knee injury, and facial cuts and bruises.

She was apparently injured about two hours before she was found unconscious.

President Hails Gov't New Rural Development

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Eisenhower today hailed the Agriculture Department's new rural development program as "the first truly broad scale attack on the problems of low-income farmers."

He said the program which concentrates on helping families on small farms is "hitting at the point of greatest need."

The administration, faced by a reported farm belt revolt over price policies, is banking on the program as an answer to Democratic campaign charges that the Republicans have ignored the plight of small farmers.

The President received a report on the program's initial phases at a White House conference with members of an inter-departmental committee of undersecretaries.

The report, presented by Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse, was signed by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson. Benson said the program would help small farm families "to attain greater opportunities in an expanding economy."

In accepting the rural development report, Mr. Eisenhower said he was particularly happy that the program would be managed on the state, county and local levels and not from Washington.

"This is as it should be," he said.

The President also emphasized the program's accent on youth, including education, vocational training, health and character.

Noting that the 50 pilot counties in 24 states already in the program are located in areas where the most small farms and most rural families with low incomes are located," the President said:

"The program is hitting at the points of greatest need."

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that highly mechanized farm units are the "chief beneficiaries" of current price-support policies, with the result that the small farmer derives essentially "little benefit" from price supports.

He said he thinks the rural program will answer this problem by extending aid to farmers beyond the price support phase.

Warren Meyer Hurt in 4-Vehicle Crash; Service Station Damaged

A collision which involved four vehicles and damaged an Omaha service station extensively late yesterday sent Warren J. "Speedy" Meyer, operator of grain elevators at Eldorado and Harrisburg, to Ferrell hospital.

State Policeman Roy A. Lane said that Meyer, who lives at Omaha, was driving a pickup truck that figured in a collision on Route 1 at Omaha when Meyer pulled onto the highway into the path of the truck loaded with limestone that was driven by R. E. Storey of Enfield.

Lane said that after the two trucks collided, Storey's vehicle veered into the Texaco service station premises, tore down two gasoline pumps and a sign and smashed

Nickell Indicted, Is Freed on $10,000 Bond

Three Others Also Ordered to Appear
For Court Hearing

CHICAGO (U.P.) — State Supt. of Public Instruction Vernon Nickell was freed on $10,000 bond today after being indicted by a grand jury with three others on charges of conspiring to make excess profits out of the school lunch program.

Nickell, 65, a leading Illinois Republican, was indicted along with James Dunbar, 47, head of a Springfield trucking company and clerk of the Sangamon County Probate Court; Harold Wolfe, 49, state lunchroom program director and Frank Washam, 62, head of the Chicago lunchroom program.

The four were ordered to appear in Felony Court Tuesday for a hearing. If convicted on all 31 counts of the four indictments, each man could be sentenced to a maximum term of 96 years imprisonment.

The indictments were the indirect results of an exclusive contract held by Dunbar & Co. to haul surplus foods for the school lunchrooms. The contract was awarded by Nickell without taking bids.

A congressional subcommittee estimated the contract cost taxpayers $500,000 more than necessary and the "excessive profit" ranged up to $900,000.

Nickell's name was the third on a roster of state politicians whose offices have been the centers of scandal. He was the second official holder to be indicted within the past two months.

A fellow Republican, Orville Hodge, is now serving a 12-15 year term in jail for a million dollar embezzlement of state funds.

Cook County Treasurer Herbert Paschen withdrew as Democratic candidate for governor after an investigation was started into charges that banks holding county funds contributed to a political "welfare fund" in his office.

Although the grand jury's true bills were reported last week, they did not become official until they were returned today.

Judge Rules Against Kentucky School Board

OWENSBORO, Ky. (U.P.) — A Federal judge ruled Thursday that a Kentucky school board's 12-year plan for integration of Negro children was not in line with the Supreme Court directive.

Federal Judge Henry L. Brooks ruled in a suit filed by Mrs. Grace Mitchell, a Negro mother who tried to enroll her two children at an all-white school at Madisonville, Ky.

The Hopkins County Board of Education plan calls for integration over a 12-year period, starting with desegregation in the first grade this fall and progressing to the next higher grade each year.

The judge ruled that while the plan "was made in good faith," it does not comply with the Supreme Court directive to desegregate at "deliberate speed."

He did not order immediate integration, but asked the board to adopt a new plan beginning with the February semester.

Railroads Ask Increase in Freight Rates

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Eastern and western railroads have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for a general 15 per cent freight rate increase in their territories to boost their over-all rate of return.

They said their income has been "almost continuously substandard and inadequate" during the last 20 years. Rate increases granted during that time, they said, were mostly aimed at off-setting wage, price and tax increases.

The railroads said that further increases in their wage, fuel and supply costs might make it necessary to seek "additional relief." They also said they will ask state commerce commissions for increases in intra-state rates.

Specifically, the petition filed Thursday asked for a 15 per cent hike—with some exceptions—in all freight rates and charges within, from, and to eastern and western territory.

The railroads also asked the ICC to investigate "the adequacy of all rates" charged by all railroads in the country. This would bring the southern carriers into the proceedings.

The petition gave no estimate on how much the increase sought would amount to in dollars.

Eastern territory lies east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, including much of West Virginia and Virginia. Western territory generally includes the area west of the Mississippi.

Morey Reports Increase in State Payroll

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — State Auditor Lloyd Morey's office today reported an increase of 432 persons and $259,892 in the state payroll during June.

A total of 51,056 persons were on the payroll during the month, with total salary allocations of $15,137,088 the report said. The figures showed an increase of 3,085 persons and $641,997 over the same month in 1955.

The code departments under Gov. William G. Stratton showed a 4 per cent increase for the month, and a 5 per cent increase for the year.

The payrolls for state universities and colleges was down 7 per cent for the month, up about 1 per cent over the June, 1955 level.

Report Lewis, Northern Coal Producers Agree to Wage Hike

U.M.W. Association
Officials Refuse
Comment on Pact

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Northern soft coal producers and United Mine Workers chief John L. Lewis are reported to have agreed on a new wage hike for the majority of 200,000 soft coal workers.

According to the report the agreement calls for a two-step wage hike totaling $2 a day. This would be the equivalent of 25 cents an hour, the same as the raise agreed on a year ago.

The report circulated in coal industry circles here. But the United Mine Workers, which Lewis heads, and Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators which represents a majority of the industry, refused to comment on it.

According to the report the agreement was negotiated by Lewis and top association officials subject to formal approval by both organizations.

Industry sources said they understood the first step of the wage hike — $1.20 a day — would take effect Monday. The second — 80 cents a day — would go into effect next April 1. This would bring miners' basic wages to more than $22 a day. The current wage is a little over $20 daily.

The sources said they also had reports the agreement calls for raising annual vacation pay by $40 to $180 and granting two more holidays.

Last year Lewis negotiated a similar agreement. The U.M.W. wage contract has no termination date but has been subject to re-opening on 60-days notice since July 1.

The Daily Register Subscription Rates

Effective October 1, the rate for The Daily Register will be 30 cents per week by carrier boy.

Single copies at news stands and at The Daily Register office will be six cents.

You may avoid the annoyance of weekly payments to carrier boys by paying in advance at the rate of $3.75 for three months; $7.25 for six months or $14.00 per year.

This is a slight savings over the weekly payment plan, but the carrier boy gets a regular 30 cents-a-week credit against what he owes for his papers, so there is no loss to the carrier.

Charges GOP Not Interested In Small Groups

Large Crowd
Hears Candidate
For Vice President

Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Estes Kefauver, on a tour of southern Illinois, spoke in Harrisburg yesterday afternoon and told a large crowd here that he was interested in seeing areas like southern Illinois developed industrially and that there was the need of a good program for small farmers.

Delivering his address from a sound truck on the north side of the Saline county court house, Sen. Kefauver ripped the Republican administration, charging it fought and killed the Distressed Area bill of U. S. Senator Paul Douglas (D Illinois) in the house after it had successfully passed the senate and pledging to fight to see that it gets through the next session of congress.

Says Govt. in Wall Street

"Are you going to sit by and see your area go down, down, down, with an administration in power that is not interested in the little farmer and the working man?" he asked the crowd. Then he charged:

"The government has been taken away from Main street and turned over to Wall street."

The Tennessee senator charged the Republican administration is pushing down the farmer, making things harder for the working man and has done nothing for small business, despite the promises made in the last presidential campaign.

Senator Kefauver also gave his views on Social Security and Old Age Assistance.

"We ought to see that our elderly citizens," he stated, "have enough to live on and pay their grocery bills. Democrats are trying to improve Social Security and Old Age Assistance programs but have met opposition from the Republicans."

Think in Terms of People

"We wanted seven and a half million dollars more for the Old Age program, we wanted to change the eligibility for women's Social Security benefits from 65 to 62 and for benefits to disabled persons to start at 50 years of age, but were stopped by the opposition."

"The Republicans think of government in terms of material things and we Democrats think of government in terms of people."

In his 10-minute address here Sen. Kefauver also talked on education needs, declaring the Republicans in the House of Representatives killed a bill to spend more money on schools.

The vice presidential nominee was introduced by Cong. Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort, who said "I am sick and tired of broken promises" made by the elected Republican officials.

State Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, who spoke before Kefauver arrived, introduced James McLaughlin, Democratic nominee for clerk of the appellate court, and David Mallett, nominee for secretary of state. Both are from Mt. Vernon.

Attendance Estimates

There was also a program of entertainment and remarks by Atty. D. F. Rumsey of Harrisburg and county candidates James R. Burroughs for circuit clerk and James Thornton for coronator before Kefauver arrived in town.

Sen. Kefauver started his Thursday

Clamp Secrecy On Crash of Rocket Plane

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (U.P.) — An Air Force investigating board today viewed the remnants of the world's fastest and highest flying plane — the X2 experimental rocket ship — which crashed at this desert Air Force test center, killing its pilot.

Capt. Milburn G. Apt, 32, of Buffalo, Kans. was at the controls of the $3-million plane Thursday when it plunged into the Mojave Desert shortly after it was released from the belly of a B50 mother plane. It was Apt's first attempt to fly the slim rocket plane.

The Air Force clamped a lid of secrecy on the crash. It assigned a board of officers to conduct a thorough investigation. The Air Force confirmed only that the plane had crashed.

Apt had taken over the plane from Capt. Iven Kincheloe, who three weeks ago flew the sleek plane to a record height of 126,000 feet. Lt. Col. Frank (Pete) Everest, famed test pilot, earlier had piloted the plane 1,900 miles an hour.

The Air Force said Apt was on a "routine indoctrination flight" and the X2 had been taken aloft attached to the belly of the giant bomber. The Air Force said the plane was cut loose from the B50 at a normal altitude of 30,000 feet and crashed within two minutes after its release. Observers said the pilot didn't have a chance to eject himself from the plane's cockpit when rockets apparently burned out, sending the heavy plane earthward.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Discredited Theory

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Some arguments die hard even in the face of mountains of evidence. One of these is the notion held by some that in voting overwhelmingly for President Eisenhower in 1952 the American people were not picking the middle of the road but seeking far more conservative government.

Those who hold this belief argue that "people voted for a change, and they didn't get it." They declare that voters' wishes were not fulfilled because the "Eisenhower administration is just like the Democratic regimes that preceded it."

In the view of most political appraisers, including the professional whose business it is to be right, the evidence is all the other way.

To begin with, there is the oft-remarked fact that Mr. Eisenhower won election by 6,600,000 votes while his Republican party squeaked into control of the 83rd Congress by the slimmest of margins. In some 70 congressional districts out of 435, including the Solid South, "Ike" outran his party.

From that point on, while the President, a middle roader, kept his popularity at peak levels, his party began to lose its finger-nail grasp on the Congress.

In 1953, special elections in Wisconsin and New Jersey went to the Democrats. The general elections of 1954 provided even stronger evidence that the GOP as a party did not yet have the confidence of a majority of voters. The Democrats won back both house of Congress and captured several new governorships.

Down the line at the local level in these years many surprising Democratic gains were made. Cities that had been Republican a long time switched over.

Now it is 1956 and a bigger test is at hand. Indications from the opinion polls suggest Mr. Eisenhower still stands high in public affection, though his battle with Adlai Stevenson is seen by a lot of wise heads as far more of a horse race than was expected a few months ago.

Yet in the recent Maine election the nation saw one more example that the GOP by itself, even in territory long held, has trouble at the polls.

Since the party as such is more conservative than the President, it would seem reasonable to suggest that if voters wanted conservative government in 1952 and thereafter they would have been voting consistently for the party.

This they clearly have not done. To turn the argument around and declare, as some do, that voters who desire conservatism take out their resentment against the administration by voting Democratic is to move onto very soft ground.

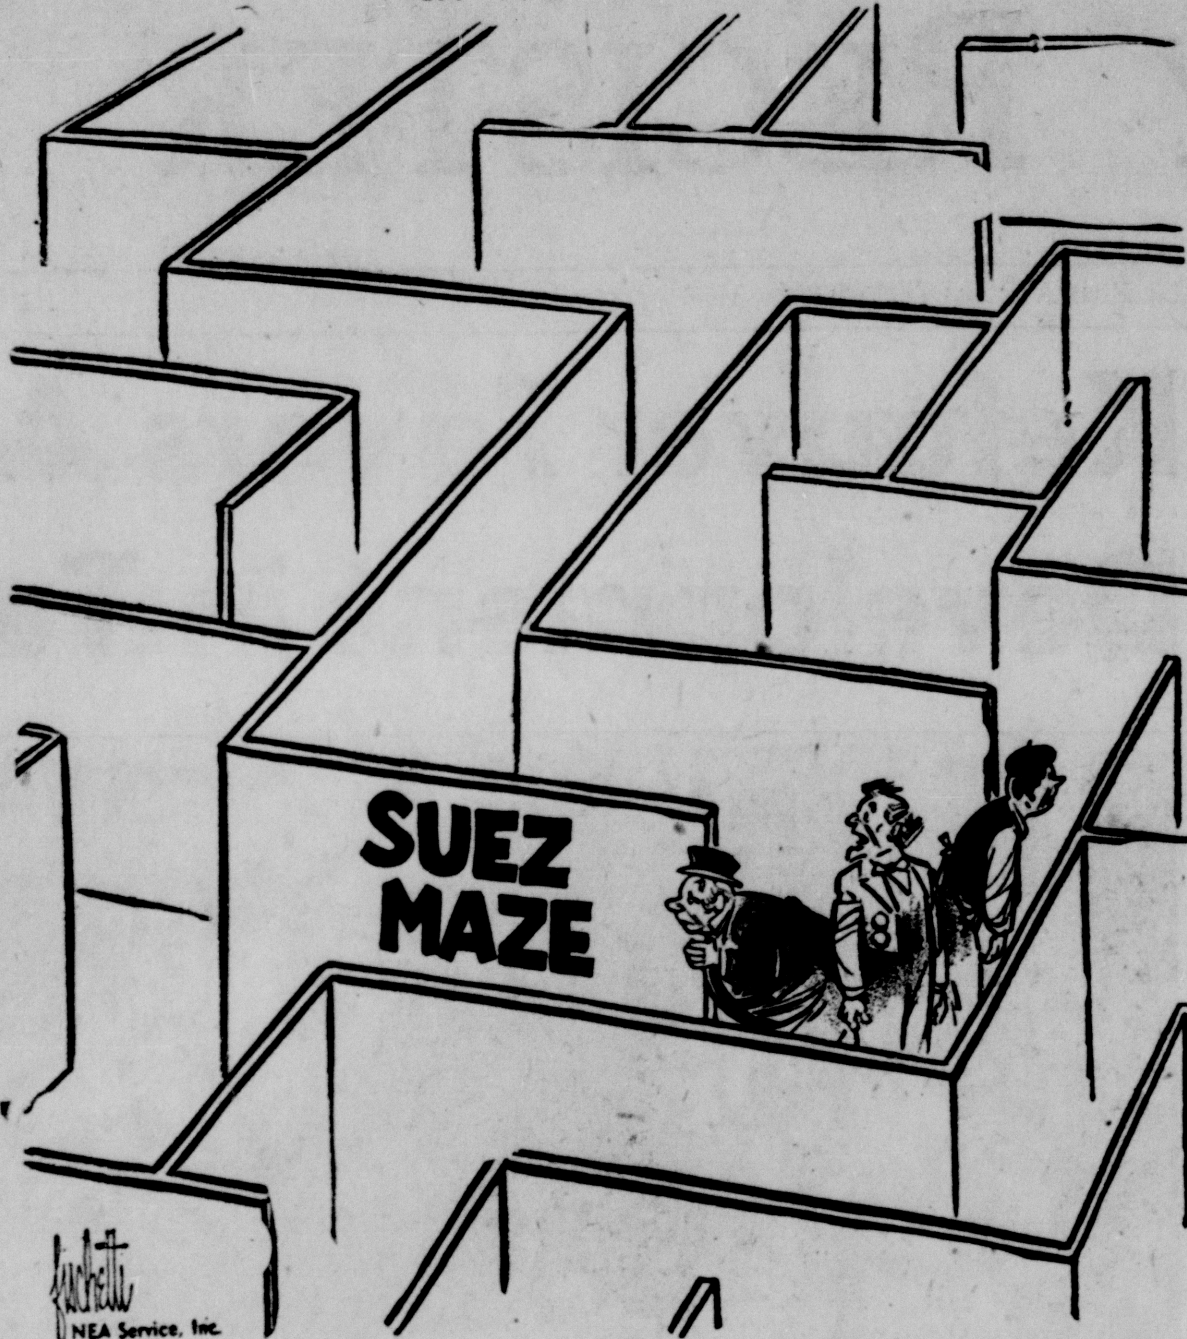

Generally the Democratic candidates have been less conservative than the moderate Mr. Eisenhower. It is hard to imagine that true conservatives would go beyond the political center to try to "punish" the administration for its middle-roadism. Most politicians would say voters seldom act thus against their natures.

Evidently a veritable avalanche is needed before these ill-founded arguments will perish. Whether Stevenson or Mr. Eisenhower wins, the Nov. 6 election may well provide that crushing clincher.

"Wish WE Had a Pilot"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Tammany Boss De Sapio Loafs On Adlai In New York; Dulles Badgered Canada Into Selling Planes To Israel.

WASHINGTON. — As it looks today, Adlai Stevenson and the Democrats will lose the most populous state in the union — New York.

Reports trickling in to Democratic headquarters from the farm belt, from the South, and from the Northwest all look good for the Democrats. But from New York, with its huge block of electoral votes, the reports are bad; also from New Jersey and Connecticut.

Chief trouble is Carmine De Sapio, head of Tammany and mastermind of Governor Harriman's abortive attempt at the nomination in Chicago. He isn't working. The organization men around Carmine also are working. New York is as dead as a do as far as Democratic political activity is concerned.

Chief reason: They don't want to lose their man—Bob Wagner—as mayor of New York. If Wagner goes to Washington as senator, he can't do them any favors. If he stays in Manhattan as mayor or he can do plenty.

Democratic politicians also have no great love for Abe Stark, the Brooklyn clothing-store man and president of the city council, who would automatically replace Wagner.

Meanwhile, ex-Congressman Jack Javits, despite lukewarm Republican support at first, is expected to win a heavy Jewish vote in a city where the population is preponderantly Jewish. It was Javits who administered the surprise defeat to Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., for New York attorney general two years ago.

DULLES FOOLS ARABS

Inside fact about those 24 F-86

jets which Canada is selling Israel is that Secretary Dulles literally hounded Canada's Foreign Minister Mike Pearson into selling them.

From the moment Dulles heard that Canada had some spare Sabre jets, he made Pearson's life miserable. Finally Canada came across with the planes for Israel.

This is part of the Dulles policy of trying to curry favor with the Arabs yet at the same time please the Israelis.

He has consistently told Colonel Nasser and other Arab leaders that the United States would not sell arms to Israel. But last spring he arranged with Gen. Alfred Gruenther of NATO to get the French to sell 24 Mystere jets to Israel. An American okay had to be given for such a sale, since the jets were part of the NATO forces built up with American aid. The United States did more than give its okay, however, it actually arranged for the sale.

The Arabs were not fooled. They protested the sale, but they did not protest to Paris. They laid their protest right at the door of John Foster Dulles.

Only trouble with the sale of these planes is that Israel, facing a backbreaking job of financing its country, hasn't the money to pay for weapons. It needs them, but can't afford them. It faces the fact that Russia has bartered 200 MIG's to the Egyptians — jets which could make a bombing raid on Tel Aviv from Cairo in about 30 minutes. So it must have jet planes to defend itself.

All this results from Russia's policy of dumping arms in the Near East—a policy which has made Near Eastern countries spend most of their budgets on arms when, according to the alleged Marxian theory, they should be spending money to improve the lot of the common man.

NO BARS TO ACHIEVEMENT—"Prisoners" John and Ronald White of Norwalk, Calif., go through some of the antics which captured the hearts of the audience at the 19th annual Twinnorama competition in Huntington Beach, Calif. The boys' reward is title of "most handsome" twins to appear in the show.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

A little old lady, who was flying on her first airplane trip, deplaned the other day in the wrong city. She was not a frequent traveler even on the ground. After asking a few questions at the wrong airport, she became confused and started to cry. She did not know where she was. She felt much as you and I feel when we awaken from a dream and cannot remember where we are.

The clerk was sympathetic, but he did not understand her plight. A great deal of explaining was required to straighten out the confusion. Finally she understood where she was, and what she had to do to reach her destination.

Many of us do not know where we are on our trip through life. We find that our understanding of God's word has not been clear. We suddenly awaken to find that we are lost, and that we do not know the way to go.

Confusion overwhelms us. We need to do a lot of explaining, and we need a great deal of help from God. That is when we begin to pray. We do it just as naturally as the little old lady who began to cry.

A good cry is good for the soul if it helps to show that we have lost our way. When we know that we need the help of our eternal Father we can talk to Him. God can then show us the way to go.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Claude Raymond, who passed away three years ago Sept. 28th.
It seems like a dream, three years ago today
An Angel of death, took our loved one away.
Our home is broken, it's not the same.
Weeping in vain, death has the claim.
Upon a beautiful hill side not far away,
Lies our loved one, in a house of clay,
Until Jesus comes to claim His own,
Then we shall know as we are known.
Sadly missed by father, mother and brothers and sisters. 78-1

Coal Industry Renews Demand for Curb on Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. coal producers renewed their plea to Congress today for a mandatory curb on imports of residual fuel oil.

They told a House Ways and Means subcommittee that the present voluntary limit on imports isn't enough.

George A. Lamb, representing the National Coal Assn., said his industry wants "protection against excessive residual imports prompted to dispose of an oversupply which generally is caused by mistakes of foreign refiners in scheduling their output."

"Legislation fixing a quota is its only safeguard," Lamb testified. Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' Assn., said American coal producers "are not asking for preferential treatment over any other American industry."

"But when we find our long established markets suddenly wiped out under a program encouraged by our own government in the sacred name of 'foreign trade' but which in reality benefits nobody except half a dozen giant members of the international oil cartel," Moody said, "we feel we have a justifiable complaint."

THE BIRDS DON'T MIND: Crab Orchard Refuge Experiment Proves Wildlife, Industry Can Mix

By SAM HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent

CARTERSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The geese don't mind Uncle Sam's collecting a few "golden eggs" in a unique experiment at the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge near here.

The southern Illinois refuge is the only one of 272 in the U. S. Department of Interior Fish and Wildlife service's far-flung system where wildlife and industrial development are mixed. Figures prove the birds like it.

Eugene Crawford, 44-year-old project manager, says the experiment began in 1947 by special act of Congress. The act specifically spells out management by the Interior Department of the 44,000-acre refuge.

The west 22,000 acres are for public use including hunting, fishing, boating and picnicking. The other 22,000 are for the birds and industry.

"There's been a long battle in the wildlife magazines and in the press that wildlife and industrial development are not compatible," Crawford says with a smile. "There's a different story here."

The refuge currently has 23 operating industries which occupy 878,000 square feet of floor space rented from the government. They employ more than 1,800 persons. The largest employs slightly over 1,000 workers.

Revenue from the rentals matches the cost of operating the refuge.

In 1947, waterfowl were not using the refuge area at all. Last winter, the Canadian goose population wintering at Crab Orchard Refuge peaked at 65,000. At one time 200,000 ducks were counted, but they move on south along the Mississippi Flyway.

"It's brought better hunting to the area," says Crawford, who has been with the Fish and Wildlife Service 21 years after graduation from the University of Michigan.

"Hunters rarely bagged a goose around the refuge in 1947. Last winter 6,000 geese were killed here," the project manager says. True, the number of geese along the Mississippi Flyway has soared in recent years. But the Crab Orchard Refuge has worked to make life more enjoyable for the wild fowl.

"Food and protection is the simple answer," says Crawford. Lease Part of Crops Area farmers are under a permit plan to plant 6,800 acres a year. They take two-thirds of the crop and leave the rest for the birds.

"The geese have adapted themselves very well to the industrial area," says Crawford. They often goose-step within a stone's throw of industrial plants to take a gander at the other end of the operation.

A favorite haunt of the feathered denizens of Crab Orchard Refuge are the "igloos" used in World War II for storage during the shell-loading plant operation there. They feed on the grass which now camouflages the tops of the igloos.

Other species of game have multiplied in the atmosphere of big business. The refuge, in co-operation with the state, conducts a controlled squirrel hunt five days each

GOSHEN, Ind. (AP) — Two clergymen and an undertaker will escort a shipment of cattle from Houston, Tex., to Russia next month.

Nearly 3 Million Acres in Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers have agreed to put nearly three million acres of fall-planted 1957 winter wheat into the soil bank.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that nearly 80,000 wheat agreements covering 2,997,007 acres were signed through Sept. 15 under the 1957 winter wheat acreage reserve program.

Participating farmers would get $57,900,000 in soil bank payments if they comply with their agreements.

The winter wheat program is the only acreage reserve program so far underway for 1957 crops.

Tito's Trip Indicates Soviets May Be Opposing Khrushchev Program

LONDON (AP)—Marshal Tito's amazing flight to Russia set off reports today that some of the Soviet Union's collective leaders may have turned against the Khrushchev program to vilify former Premier Joseph Stalin.

The Yugoslav capital of Belgrade—and the Western capitals—were taken by surprise when Tito rushed off by plane to the Soviet Union Thursday with Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Khrushchev is the No. 1 leader of the plan to "de-Stalinize" Russia and it was believed he may have taken the once-balky Yugoslav leader back with him to Russia to support the new line in talks with other Communist leaders.

Diplomats in Moscow offered the alternative theory that Tito was drastically dissatisfied with the Soviet follow up to agreements last year and this June for close economic and ideological cooperation between the two countries.

No Official Explanation

Moscow radio said Tito and Khrushchev had arrived in Yalta, site of the "Big Three meeting" of World War II. Earlier Moscow disclosed that Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov were at Sochi, a Red army health resort 300 miles from Yalta across the Black Sea.

There was no official explanation of the trip other than Belgrade and Moscow announcements that Tito and Khrushchev "will be resting" along Russia's Black Sea coast, a subtropical area long famous as a winter resort.

The facts pointed to one conclusion: Something of extreme seriousness brought on Khrushchev's mysterious trip to Yugoslavia and Tito's even more amazing flight with him to Crimea.

A surprising feature was Tito's decision to fly. He has not flown since World War II when the Allies evacuated him from Yugoslavia by air after Nazi troops surrounded his mountain hide-away. Usually he travels by car or armored train.

Visited Moscow in June

Whatever brought on the journey has arisen since Tito's state visit to Moscow in June when close accords were signed between the governments and the Communist parties of the two countries. And it appeared so serious Khrushchev could not settle it during his eight days of talks in Yugoslavia.

Young Korean Shoots Official

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A young Korean today shot and slightly wounded Vice President John M. Chang in a bold assassination attempt against the bitter political opponent of President Syngman Rhee.

Police rescued the would-be assassin from an enraged crowd of about 1,000 persons who fell upon him with fists and sticks after the attack. He was not identified immediately.

Chang drove to a downtown theater to attend a national meeting of his opposition Democratic Party. A single shot rang out as he stepped from his jeep. Chang clutched his hand and rushed into the theater, where some 800 party members were holding their meeting.

A crowd listening to convention speeches broadcast over loudspeakers outside the theater, pounced on the gunman and began beating him.

Police moved in quickly to rescue the would-be assassin from probable death at the hands of the incensed crowd and hustle him off. The theater is only 150 yards from national police headquarters.

The attempted assassination followed by a day a motion pushed through the National Assembly by Rhee's Liberal Party to censure Chang for his criticisms of the president after the inauguration.

Actress' Son Contests Will Of Socialite

NEW YORK (AP)—The 27-year-old son of movie actress Constance Bennett is contesting the will of a prominent socialite whom he claims is his grandmother.

Peter Bennett Plant, Beverly Hills, Calif., Miss Bennett's son, charged in Surrogate's Court Thursday that Mrs. Mae Rovensky was "mentally incapacitated" when the will was drawn.

Mrs. Rovensky of New York's Fifth Avenue and Clarendon Court in Newport R. I., died July 21 at her summer home just 46 days after her will was drawn, leaving bequests totaling $3,200,000.

Plant charged that Mrs. Rovensky was "coerced" by unidentified persons who made "false and fraudulent representations" that he was not her grandson.

Miss Bennett claims that Peter's father was the late playboy, Philip M. Plant to whom she was married in the 1920s. They were divorced in 1929 but Miss Bennett claims that Peter was born to her in London before the divorce was final. She said she kept the birth secret because she feared Plant's family would try to take her son from her.

Plant, who died in 1940, was a child of Mrs. Rovensky's second marriage to multimillionaire traction magnate Morton F. Plant, who left Mrs. Rovensky the bulk of his fortune.

Morton Plant's will provided a $600,000 trust fund for any child that Philip might have.

Miss Bennett filed suit for the $600,000 trust fund after Philip Plant died.

Philip Plant's heirs petitioned for a decree that Plant had died without issue. Before the trial, Plant's family created a $138,328 trust fund for Peter. Peter received $97,461, representing the balance of the trust when he reached his 21st birthday in 1950.

Miss Bennett said the remainder of $40,687 was spent for his care and education while he was a minor.

Peter requested that the will not be accepted for probate.

Stevenson Hits GOP Failure To Halt Rising Cost of Living

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that the Eisenhower administration's tight money policy has not stopped inflation but has "tightened the screws even tighter" on small businessmen, farmers and home buyers.

The Democratic presidential nominee flew here from St. Louis to deliver a speech charging that the administration had failed to halt the rising cost of living.

Stevenson quoted a 1952 Republican campaign pledge to "do something" about the cost of living.

"But now, after four years of doing something about it, the cost of living has reached an all-time high," Stevenson said.

"Moreover, economists are now forecasting that prices will go even higher. Your rent is likely to go up, your car is almost sure to cost you more, and so are television sets, refrigerators, clothing, and nearly everything else you buy," he said.

"And the tight money policy which has not stopped inflation, has given a bonanza to large financial institutions, and has tightened the screws even tighter on small businessmen, small farmers and ordinary home buyers."

Stevenson said that many city dwellers did not realize that the cost of living has been rising, the farmers' income "has been going down, down, down."

"It isn't the farmer who is getting more money because your grocery bill is going up," Stevenson said. "Ten years ago the farmer was getting 52 cents out of every housewife's dollar spent on food; now he gets about 40 cents, and meanwhile his costs have gone up too."

Stevenson said the people "have a right to know the truth" about the cost of living. He said that when Mr. Eisenhower became president, the Federal Trade Commission was planning an investigation of "price spreads" but Congress in 1953 cut off the FTC appropriation for the job.

"I think we should make such an investigation, not in a punitive mood, but as part of a thoughtful and constructive effort to get the facts," Stevenson said.

Compromise in Nehru's Hands

CAIRO (AP)—Semi-official Egyptian sources said today a Suez compromise lies almost exclusively in the hands of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Nehru sent his roving Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon to Cairo last week for conferences with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the dispute over the canal.

Krishna Menon since has flown to London to confer with British officials. The sources said that a "workable compromise solution" might be produced during Nehru's talks with President Eisenhower in the United States. Nehru is scheduled to visit Washington later this year.

They gave no indication of what would be considered a workable compromise solution. Both sides were holding firmly to their original positions on Egyptian operation of the canal.

President Eisenhower was the target of a bitter attack by Col. Anwar El-Sadat in the government newspaper Al Gomhouria. El Sadat, referring to Mr. Eisenhower's condemnation of the Egyptian Suez Canal blockade on Israeli shipping, said it was the United States and not Egypt which had dark spots on its history.

A CROWD estimated at from 2,000 to 2,500 jammed into the north court yard of the Saline County Court House Thursday to see and hear Democratic candidates, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver, Democratic nominee for Vice President. day tour with a speech at Belleville. He also spoke at Murphysboro, Herrin, and West Frankfort before coming to Harrisburg and was slated to appear at Fairfield, Flora, Salem and Mt. Vernon after leaving here.

Press associations reporters said they had received attendance estimates of 300 at Murphysboro, 500 at Herrin, 2,000 at West Frankfort and Sheriff William T. Barrett estimated the local crowd at between 2,000 and 2,500.

Kefauver had been billed to speak in Harrisburg at 2:45 p. m. but the caravan was delayed about an hour. It was 3:40 p. m. when he rode bareheaded into town in an open convertible, to the strains of a "Tennessee Waltz" played on an organ.

Presented Pair of Sox

During his stay here he was presented a pair of new Sox bought from the Sidewalk Sales event and which he said he really appreciated, and with a Special Deputy's card, presented by Sheriff William T. Barrett.

Kefauver's caravan was picked up at the Saline county line by Deputy Sheriffs Everett N. Sneed and James Lyon.

The first part of the program was carried from the north porch of the court house, but when Kefauver arrived, the speaking was transferred to his own sound truck.

Kefauver was accompanied here by a caravan of about 14 automobiles, and after he had departed in the convertible, he was rushed back by Rep. Gray to shake hands with a couple of elderly Saline county residents who have been lifetime Democrats.

Steve Mitchell of Independence township, chairman of the Saline County Democratic central committee, was in charge of the rally.

Nixon and Kefauver Barnstorm in Illinois; Vice President at Springfield

By United Press
The Republican and Democratic candidates for vice president campaigned in Illinois Thursday for votes, both for themselves and for congressional candidates from their parties.

Sen. Estes Kefauver barnstormed southern counties at a breakneck clip, stopping at 11 communities, while Vice President Richard M. Nixon confined his efforts to a Springfield rally.

Nixon avoided mentioning the name of former Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, now serving a 12 to 15 year sentence for his million-dollar raid on the state treasury. But the vice president said he had "nothing but unqualified admiration" for the way Gov. William G. Stratton handled the embezzlement scandal.

He predicted the governor's conduct regarding the Hodge case was "going to make votes for Bill Stratton in this election." Nixon praised Stratton as a "man of immense integrity and courage."

47 Bolivian Prisoners Seize Airliner, Fly to Argentina

SALTA, Argentina (AP)—Argentine authorities today weighed an appeal for asylum by 47 Bolivian political prisoners who commandeered an airliner at gunpoint over Bolivia and flew it here Thursday.

The Bolivians were being transferred from Santa Cruz, in southeastern Bolivia, to the capital city of La Paz when they seized control of the Bolivian Lloyd DC4 airliner.

One of the prisoners, a retired army colonel, smuggled a pistol aboard the plane. Shortly after it took off, he disarmed a guard carrying a machinegun while two of his companions subdued two other guards.

Another prisoner, a commercial pilot, took over the controls and flew the plane to a safe landing here.

Harrisburg, Illinois

ASSESSMENT LIST

Herewith is a list of personal property assessments as made by the township assessor of Harrisburg township inside the City of Harrisburg and returned to MAYNARD CANNON, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments of Saline County, Illinois.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Saline County Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under Provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full, fair, cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair, cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extension for the 1956 taxes, payable in 1957, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed values as made by the local assessment officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayers of the County of assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors.

Seven ships, operated by the United States, Canada, and Japan, cruise endlessly in tiny circles in the North Pacific to report weather conditions every three hours. There is a scarcity of islands in the area, making the ships necessary as weather stations.

THE LONG NIGHT

By MARTIN CAIDIN
Copyright 1956 by Martin Caidin. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: After the sneak atom bomb attack on Harrington, John Thompson tries to find Sue Whitehead, his fiancée, but he is told she had been evacuated from her home. His younger brother is Donald Thompson. Both are sons of Henry Thompson, one of the leaders of the Civil Defense setup.

XV

Earlier Henry Thompson's youngest sons, Donald, had climbed over the white picket fence separating his home from that of his best friend, 14-year-old Mike Phillips. Classroom buddies, he and Mike usually did their homework together, managing to sprawl on the Phillips' battered sofa for an hour of television viewing before Donald had to return home.

At exactly 10 minutes past nine, the television set went blank. There was no warning sputter or special announcement, or any indication that something had gone wrong with picture tube or another part of the set. Mike scampered around the back of the set, then stuck his head out, puzzled.

"Hey, Don!" he called, "the plug's still in. All the lights are working. I can't figure what's wrong with this crazy thing."

"Pop! Hey, Pop!" he yelled shrilly for his father. "Sumpin' wrong with the TV! Can you fix it up for us?"

Jim Phillips wearily closed the switch on the whirling power lathe he had set up in his basement.

He gazed fondly at the almost-completed lamp base in the lathe. "Never a moment's peace," he sighed wearily to himself as he turned off the light.

His youngster's voice called out again as he climbed the stairs. "Pop? You comin' up?"

"Right there, son," Phillips answered. He walked into the living room and looked at the blank screen of the television set. "What happened, Mike?" he asked.

"I don't know, Pop," the boy answered. "The set was working just fine when all of a sudden—bloop!—it went dead. The plug's still in."

"Simmer down, boy," his father replied with a grin. "We'll take a look inside." He swung the TV away from the wall and peered into the maze of wires and tubes, his son close by, waiting impatiently.

"Well," Jim Phillips replied, shrugging his shoulders, "there's just one way. Let's call the television station and ask them if something happened over there."

He turned to his son. "Mike, get the number from information."

A few minutes later Phillips replaced the telephone to its cradle, a puzzled expression in his face. "The line's busy," he said to the two boys. "All the lines are busy. I can't even get the operator..."

From the end of the block where it was bolted to the street-light pole, a large cylindrical container vibrated sharply as dozens of sharp metal vanes within its aluminum shell began to whirl. A deep bass roar gushed outward from the cylinder orifice, climbing rapidly in pitch as the vanes rotated faster and faster. In 10 seconds it was screaming with an ear-splitting cry, shattering the stillness of the residential neighborhood, wakening babies, bringing startled men and women to their windows and doors, searching the streets.

Jim Phillips' wife came running into the living room from the kitchen, surprise registered on her face. "What is it, Jim?" she asked.

"Donald," Phillips asked the Thompson boy, "did your father say anything about a surprise air raid drill tonight?"

"No, Mr. Phillips," the boy replied. "Dad and Mom are at the movies. He would have told me about this."

Jim Phillips turned to his wife. "Helen, maybe it's the real thing. Henry would have told me about a drill; certainly he wouldn't have gone to the movies with Jan. We had better go to the basement. Just in case," he said, trying to assure his wife.

He spoke to Donald. "Is there anybody in your house now, Don?"

"No, sir," the youngster answered. "Mom and Dad are at the movies. Johnny's bowling tonight, and Terry is at the school practicing for her Christmas play."

"All right, son," Phillips said. "You stick right here with us. C'mon, everybody, down to the basement."

Donald spoke up. "Mr. Phillips, I think you ought to check your gas range first. If you have any of the burners going, it would be a good idea to turn them off. Then in case the house is wrecked, the open flames won't start any fires. Dad says that in a red alert—"

"A what?" asked Mrs. Phillips. "When the sirens go off," Donald answered earnestly. "Dad says you should also turn off the oil burner and open the main electric switch. That way there's less chance of the house starting to burn, if sumpin' really bad happens. He also said that when you go to a shelter you should take some heavy clothes, blankets, a flashlight, and a battery radio. You need the radio to hear civil defense instructions."

Jim and Helen Phillips looked at the boy with surprise and sudden respect. "Four years in the army," the man said, "and a kid has to tell me what to do. Okay, let's get going."

He hesitated only long enough to pick up a pipe and his tobacco pouch, went to the hall closet for his wife's coat and his jacket. Then he joined Helen and the two boys in the basement.

Eskimos Entitled to Time-and-a-Half

BOSTON — News of time and a half for overtime work has penetrated the far north.

The wife of a sports promoter found that out here when an Eskimo family won a $50,000 court judgment after charging they were underpaid during a recent exhibition.

Spokesman for the family, Mrs. Esther Mayokok, crisply recited the facts—the family worked 60 weeks at an average of 80 hours a week.

She said that instead of receiving 75 cents an hour plus overtime, the family was paid a flat $30 a week.

The judge agreed that Eskimos were entitled to time and a half like anyone else.

Lake Baikal, in Russia, is said to be the deepest lake in the world. It has a depth of 5,711 feet.

IRREPLACABLE DIVOT

Braves to Send Bob Buhl
Against Cardinals Tonight;
Dodgers Will Face Friend

By United Press
The high-riding Milwaukee Braves can clinch at least a tie for the National League pennant tonight, if a couple of Dodger-killers named Bob Buhl and Bob Friend can just drive two more nails in Brooklyn's coffin.

All it would take would be for bushy-browed Buhl of the Braves to beat the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis while pudgy-cheeked Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates beats the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The combination of events would put Milwaukee two full games ahead of Brooklyn with only two games left to go. Even if the Braves lost their remaining two games, the best Brooklyn could do would be tie for the flag and force a playoff starting Monday.

Tonight could turn out much differently, however—it could see the Dodgers regain a tie with Milwaukee for first place if skinny Roger Craig (winless since Aug. 22) can beat Friend while Tom Poholsky of the Cardinals outpitches Buhl for his third win over Milwaukee this year.

Redleg Chances Slight

If the Braves and Dodgers both win—Milwaukee would remain one game ahead and be one day nearer the finish line. The only result would be to wipe out the last mathematical hope of the third-place Cincinnati Redlegs. If the Braves and Dodgers both lose—the Braves still would be a game ahead and the Dodgers would have missed a golden opportunity.

There were no games Thursday, a "traveling day" in the schedule. Buhl, the man who whipped Brooklyn eight times this year, will be seeking his 19th win of the year tonight while Friend, with a 4-1 edge over Brooklyn, will be shooting for his 18th.

Braves' skipper Fred Haney says lefty Warren Spahn will face St. Louis Saturday but he hasn't made up his mind about a hurler for Sunday's finale. Dodger pilot Walt Alton will follow Craig with Sal Maglie on Saturday and Don Newcombe on Sunday.

"Hire the biggest bus available," Haney told Braves' traveling Secretary Duffy Lewis Thursday "for the biggest celebration ever."

Alton Predicts Sweep

It was the closest the Milwaukee skipper has yet come to claiming the flag.

Alton predicted the Dodgers will sweep their final three games from the pesky Pirates, who beat them three out of four early this week. He refused to criticize Sandy Amoros, whose fly ball muffed led to the Dodgers' costly 7-3 loss to the Phillies Wednesday, but said Sandy won't start tonight "if he's depressed."

Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan, who will pitch Ronnie Kline on Saturday and Vern Law or Friend again Sunday, grinned as he said the Dodgers "are right behind the eight ball."

In Cincinnati, where the Redlegs need one homer to tie the Giants' major league record of 221 for a season, Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he'll stuff all his sluggers into the starting lineup in Sunday's final game "unless we have a chance for second place." Even the bubbling Birdie can't dream of a pennant "miracle" any longer.

Same

The words "book" and "beech" in Anglo-Saxon were the same, presumably because ancient Runic tablets were made of beechwood, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

We don't usually think of professional athletes in any way other than the activities that bring them headlines on the sports pages of newspapers throughout the land.

And too often we never think of a professional ball player in connection with Christian activities. But, just as membership in churches throughout the nation is reaching an all-time high, so are we hearing more and more about the Christian work of well known athletes.

Some time ago a national publication carried an article on the church work of Alvin Dark, at that time shortstop with the New York Giants and at present with the St. Louis Cardinals. The story pointed out that Dark was active in the work of the Baptist church of his home community, that he was available most any time to talk to church groups and was a strong believer in tithing—the giving of 10 per cent of his income to the church.

Another great shortstop—Pee Wee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers—is another professional baseball player who takes an active part in Christian work.

The July issue of Presbyterian Life, national publication of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, carried Reese's picture on the front page with the wording "Pee Wee Reese, Shortstop and Deacon," and carried a lengthy story on the life of the Brooklyn shortstop.

Reese was ordained a deacon last winter in his home church, New Covenant Presbyterian church, Louisville, Ky. He and his family, wife and daughter, and Pee Wee's mother, Mrs. C. M. Reese, are regular attendants at the Louisville church during the winter months and keep in contact with the church by correspondence during the baseball season.

And during the baseball season the Reese family attends the Fort Hamilton Presbyterian church at 94th street and 4th Avenue, Brooklyn.

Reese learned the fundamentals of religion and baseball through the same medium—the New Covenant Presbyterian church in Louisville.

"I grew up in a tough section of Louisville and was well on my way to becoming a bad kid when the church got hold of me. For that reason I can never express sufficiently my gratitude to the church that showed me the right way," Reese is quoted as saying.

Mrs. Reese is active in the young people's work of the church and the daughter, Barbara, attends church services regularly and sings in the Junior choir.

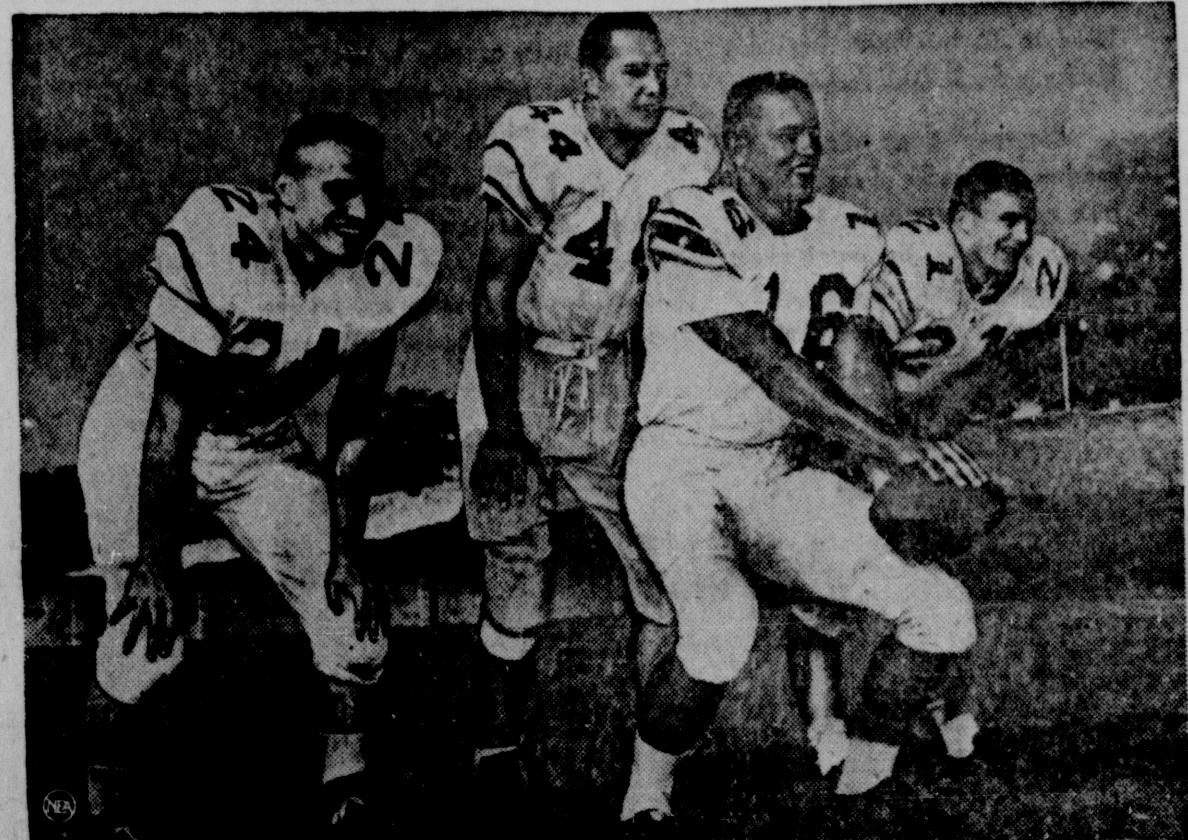

Reese leaves no doubt that his moral code follows him wherever he goes. As there is one right to play shortstop, so he believes that there is one right way to live. And in living, church-going is the right and only foundation.

A Christian gentleman and a top-notch professional baseball player, that is Pee Wee Reese—and many a youngster has dreamed of following in his footsteps as a shortstop. But, according to Reese's philosophy, to have the full life, there must also be room for the church and its Christian teachings.

Joey Giardello in

TV Bout Tonight

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Chicago's Bobby Boyd, the second ranking middleweight contender was a 2-1 favorite tonight to stall Joey Giardello's comeback in their nationally televised 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena.

Boyd, shooting for his 10th consecutive victory, was given the edge on his speed and boxing ability in contrast to Giardello's harder punching. Boyd's height was also a factor against the stocky Philadelphian.

Murphysboro has two professional pitchers lined up for the final game in Lewis Gildewell, a White Sox prospect and Gieger, a Cardinal prospect playing for Rochester of the AAA league.

The Legion will practice Saturday at 4 p. m. All players who can possibly do so are asked to make it. The practice will be on the VFW field.

Three Candidates
For Harris' Job as Tigers' Manager

DETROIT — Baseball scout-lebut today pegged Detroit Tiger first base Coach Jack Tighe, Cincinnati Redlegs Manager George R. (Birdie) Tebbetts and St. Louis' Fred Hutchinson as top candidates for the Tigers manager job vacated by Bucky Harris.

No announcement of Harris' successor is expected until after the World Series. So, until then it probably will remain a guessing game, except for one thing — the new manager will be the "fiery aggressive type."

That was the description club President Walter O. "Spike" Briggs used this year in describing a "must" quality of the new manager. The term re-echoed by

Harris Thursday when he said in his letter of resignation he assumed the new manager would be a "fiery and aggressive type, one who would fight for the players on the field."

"Obviously," Harris said, "that eliminates me. I prefer to try and get winning results by exercising my best judgment, percentage-wise."

Captain Townsend To End Exile

BRUSSELS, Belgium — The enforced exile of group Capt. Peter Townsend, the man who won the heart but not the hand of Princess Margaret, will end at noon Saturday.

The handsome, 42-year-old flyer will lock up his tiny air attaché's office at the British Embassy for the last time and prepare for a solo round-the-world automobile trip from which he says, "I may never return."

It was three years and two months ago that Britain sent him abroad when it became apparent the pretty little princess was in love with him.

Late next month he plans to start his 20,000 mile trip which will take him through southern Europe, the Middle East, India, Australia, Japan, the Pacific and the U. S. and Canada. He does not plan to visit Russia.
